

Lead-case exposure retained by the observability audit

Hidden exposure is reported only inside strong-screen cells that are not majority observable.

